Mayor Wins Prize Draw.

The drawing of his own ticket in a prize drawing is something that seldom happens, but that is what Mayor Chambers did at the drawing of the hope chest at the I.O.D.E. dance Friday night. A stranger from the crowd was chosen to mix the tickets and Mr. Chambers was elected to make the draw and he was the most surprised man in the hall when it was announced he was the holder of the winning ticket.

The dance was well attended, but there were fewer dancers in costume than on previous occasions. The crowd, however, seemed to have a most enjoyable time.

The receipts from the dance were very satisfactory and together with the great success in the sale of tickets for the hope chest, the I.O.D.E. will have a very good balance to assist them in the carrying-on of their good work.

Heavy Wind Damage.

The heavy wind that struck here shortly after noon on Friday did considerable damage in the district. The wind caught the light hauled grain stacks and scattered them about the fields, but the heavier grain was not much damaged.

The roof was lifted off D. Dippel's large barn and demolished, as was also the roof of the lumber shed at the Atlas lumber yard in town. The large sheep shed on W. Coates' farm was demolished, some of the lumber being blown for over one hundred yards.

The dust which was blown from the fields and roads made it very disagreeable for two or three hours.

Curlers Prepare To Organize

One does not think much of curling during this fine weather, but the curlers are going to be prepared for the first cold snap that comes along and they will hold their organization meeting on Tuesday, October 27th.

Air Mail Service Improved.

The air mail service now offers definite advantages to patrons of the post office. The service has been placed on a new and revised basis which shows definite gains and it is well worth while to pay the extra 3 cents to effect these gains.

The air mail leaves Calgary every night at 9 p.m. and the following time is saved for letters to reach their destination:

Winnipeg, 30 hours saved.
St. Paul, Milwaukee and Chicago, 42 hours.
Detroit, Windsor and London, Ont., 24 hours.
New York, 48 hours.

The air mail service has more than postal significance, it is a national enterprise that is playing an important part in keeping commercial aviation alive in Canada.

The Stevens wrecking car was called out Monday to a couple of accidents. D. Scott, of Calgary upset his car in the ditch near Rosebud school, and J. H. ## Prairie Wheat Reaches Overseas Via H.B. Route

With due pomp and circumstance the steamer "Farnworth" glided into her berth at London harbor, October 10th, laden with the first cargo of Canadian grain to be carried from the new port of Churchill. The trip occupied sixteen days and results in the cutting of nearly a thousand miles off the ordinary journey from the prairie wheat fields to the Old Country markets. The Hudson's Bay route is no longer a theory, it is an accomplished fact.

"Gold" Rush— But No Gold!

The Fallen Timber "gold" rush is at an end. Only a slight trace of gold was discovered by Fred Kennedy and A. W. Savory, Henk staff reporters who spent two days in the camp and who panned the creek for hours in search of pay dirt. Three little flakes were found.

They say that there may be gold, but it is hard to find. Indian guides and packers reaped a harvest and they claim that sixty locations were staked.

Courtesy and Safety

"Why is it," remarked the Observant Man, "that a man, who may accidentally jostle you in a crowd, turns and says 'I'm sorry,' or 'I beg your pardon,' but who, when he gets behind the steering wheel of a motor car, throws all ideas of courtesy to the winds and acts as if you had no rights whatever, even the right to live?"

It is the unsolved puzzle of this present age. A man ordinarily polite and courteous, who, if he bumped into another couple when dancing, or stepped on his partner's foot, would express his regrets, when engaged in motoring act, all too frequently, like an ignorant, uncouth brute. He would hesitate to steal so much as a lead pencil from another, thinks nothing at all of stealing the right-of-way at a road intersection, even from a lady, considers he has done something smart, and even derides or joshes those whom he has made his victim. Yet he is guilty of theft, not only in a moral sense but actually in a legal sense, because the law declares it an offence to take the right-of-way from another to whom it belongs.

Many a motorist, who, if standing on his own two legs on the shore of a lake would never even entertain the thought of pushing a non-swimmer into deep water at the peril of his life, nevertheless does not hesitate to crowd a fellow motorist, possibly a beginner in the art of driving,—off the road at the risk of smashing the other's car and possibly seriously injuring or killing him.

And why is it that so many men, ordinarily polite and courteous, refined in language and manners, become abusive, profane and quarrelsome over some slight setback on the road? What is it about a motor car, or the pleasure or business that it brings, that so completely changes many men, and women, too, from their usual tenets of conduct into the most disagreeable creatures, reckless and regardless of the rights, comfort and safety of others?

Is it merely because the modern motor engenders such speed that the drivers of cars become reckless, heedless, and for the time being at least are no longer normal human beings? Or is it that peculiar quick in our human makeup that seems to impel us to do what both commonsense and the law says we are not to do?

The conduct of not a few, but countless thousands of motorists is an unsolved mystery. No man, except he be a maniac, would think of throwing vitriol into another's face and thereby blinding him, but to anyone used to travelling our highways at night it would seem that the vast majority of motor car drivers think nothing at all of driving past approaching cars with powerful, glaring headlights completely blinding for the time being the drivers of these other cars, and inviting terrible disaster. Is it that they are just too lazy to be even bothered to dim their own lights for a few seconds? Or is it something else, some petty meanness of disposition, some un-understandable twist in their character which does not at other times display itself?

And yet courtesy is such a fine trait, a simple thing, something that costs nothing, but which is the hallmark of the true gentleman.

And how much pleasure it would add to motoring if courtesy, instead of a rule book, became the universal habit of the road! And, oh, how much it would add to the safety of the road!

Governments provide rules and regulations governing the condition of cars, automobile clubs and associations conduct campaigns of education; tests are provided for brakes, lamps, tires, steering gear, etc., and all serve very useful purposes. But a uniform recognition and acceptance of the ordinary rules of courtesy by one toward another, and by each toward all, would do more than any one thing to obviate accidents with their present appalling bills for damages and irreparable loss of life.

As a nation we are striving with might and main and the expenditure of fabulous sums of money to combat tuberculosis, cancer, and dread diseases of one kind and another, we are engaged in conservation of our forests, our streams and water-powers, our fisheries, our minerals; we spend millions on research work to combat rust in wheat, grasshoppers, and other pests which destroy the proceeds of our agricultural labours,—yet we go blithely on taking human life recklessly, needlessly, maiming many more, and destroying millions of dollars worth of property annually through the agency of the automobile, which to many has become a dread and a menace when it ought to be a joy and a blessing.

And such a little thing, such a simple thing, as the practice of a uniform courtesy would serve to revolutionize the situation for the better. Why not try it for a change? Let a little courtesy do its good work.

Barred From U.S.

William Shier, 48, who was returning to his home in Gary, Ind., after being two weeks at the bedside of his mother in Newmarket, Ont., has been refused re-entry into United States by United States immigration authorities. It is alleged that he entered United States illegally seven years ago at Portland, N.D.

A Philadelphia man has developed what is said to be one of the finest collections of live butterflies in the United States. For many years Daniel G. V. Laning has made a study of the beautifully coloured insects, raised them and named them. ## The Mother of Seven Children Used It for Diarrhoea

Mrs. Ray Brinkwater, R.R. No. 2, Hagersville, Ont., writes:—"I am the mother of seven children, and last summer one of them, 37 months old, was taken very sick with diarrhoea, and I thought she was going to die."
"My husband went 7 miles to see what my sister had given her baby, and he came home with a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, gave the child a few doses and she was soon well again."
"My other children also had diarrhoea at that time and I gave them 'Dr. Fowler's' with the same results."

Japan's Population

Is Increasing By Nearly a Million Every Year

One or two competent writers on Japan having announced lately, with some confidence, that the population question in the Japanese Empire would act to increase the rate of increase was steadily slowing down, the figures of the 1931 census now emerge to shatter that comfortable doctrine. The birthrate in Japan is not going down, it is going up. And the population is increasing at present by nearly a million every year. That fact may not be as disturbing to the rest of the world as it sounds. The Japanese, for all their apparent need for emigrating grounds, still show little desire to emigrate on any considerable scale. But the alternative is to convert Japan systematically from an agricultural into an industrial State.

DRAPERIES MADE NEW

When we resumed housekeeping a month ago I took my draperies to the cleaners. The result was they became badly faded and sun-spotted. "I was horrified," the happy thought struck me to dye them. I just dyed them a deeper green, and as I used Diamond they look gorgeous and new. I have never seen easier dyes to use than Diamond Dyes. They give the most beautiful colours—when used either for tinting or dyeing—and never take the life out of cloth as other dyes do."

Official details of the administration of the camps were issued by Hon. William Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests. Present plans are to get the camps into operation early in October.

There will be no military methods but provincial police will be available whenever required at the camps.

Many Years a Sailor

Earl Jellicoe Held Position Of Junior Officer In 1893

It seems ages ago in this whirling world since the disastrous collision in the Mediterranean between the "Victoria," flagship of the fleet, and the "Camperdown," and it is almost startling to recall that Earl Jellicoe, Canada's distinguished visitor, was a junior officer on the ill-fated "Victoria." Though stricken at the time with fever, he plunged into the sea and was among those rescued—in his case to give further distinguished service on another flagship of the fleet. Earl Jellicoe took to the sea when young, as the "Victoria" went down in June, 1893; and he is far from being an old man.

High Quality Canadian Cattle Shipments of Canadian cattle to Great Britain have proven at times of such a high quality that the live-stock sold on a par with Scottish home-killed beef according to John Byers, secretary of the Council of Western Beef Producers. The Canadian cattle he added, at some periods, had been sold in preference to the Irish importations.

Bronze Statue Honours Hardy

Unveiled By Sir James Barrie At Dorchester, England

Unveiling a life-size bronze statue of Thomas Hardy, the work of Eric Kennington, here in Hardy's native Dorchester. Sir James Barrie, creator of "Peter Pan," told how nearly the world came to missing altogether the late novelist's services. "When the child Hardy was born," said Sir James, "the doctor thought him dead and dropped him into a basket. But a woman stepped forward to make sure and found he was alive. A statue to this woman—Mr. Kennington could have done worse than give us that."

It is usually safe to say that when a child is pale, sickly, peevish and restless, the cause is worms. These parasites range the stomach and intestines, causing serious disorders of the digestion and preventing the infant from deriving sustenance from food. Miller's Worm powders, by destroying the worms, correct these faults of the digestion and serve to restore the organs to healthy action.

The Great Importance Of Experimental Farm Work In Fibre Crop Production In Canada

It would be very difficult to estimate in dollars and cents the value of the work done in Canada by the fibre crops division, which operates under the direction of the Dominion Experiment Farms System. The Division of Economic Fibre Production embraces work in a relatively large and varied field of endeavour and it is almost as directly connected with manufacturing activities as with cultural conditions.

There are some twenty projects under way at Ottawa in connection with problems that have confronted flax and hemp growers at various times. It is important to have an accurate record of the varieties best suited to the cultural and climatic conditions of Canada, and these records become more valuable as additional information is revealed from year to year.

The application of fertilizers best suited to these fibre plants offers a great field for careful investigation. This work is being carried on systematically at Ottawa as well as at a number of the branch farms extending from British Columbia to Nova Scotia, so that results may be analyzed, compared and recorded for future reference.

The central experimental farm at Ottawa is equipped with a modern flax mill in which flax and hemp pressing machinery of all kinds are given rigid tests. The farmer benefits from such a service because he knows that if the machinery he is interested in is given an unbiased and thorough test under government supervision, he will receive reliable information concerning it.

Then too, the fibre division of the central experimental farms system renders an extremely important marketing service.

During the year 1930 flax growing in eastern Canada received $5.60 a bushel c.i.f. Belfast, Ireland for a special variety of flax seed known as J.W.S. This variety was originated by an Irishman named John W. Stewart, and was sent to Canada in 1929 for a test propagation by the Ministry of Agriculture for northern Ireland. During the year 1930-31 the price received for this special pedigree flax seed was $4.68 per bushel. The business end of these transactions handled by the fibre division through the Ministry of Agriculture, northern Ireland and the seed was cleaned for the farmers and inspected free of charge by the Canadian Government.

W. J. Megaw of the Ministry of Agriculture for northern Ireland stated in a letter received by the fibre division on the 20th of May, 1931, that "in counties Antrim and Derry the demand was largely for Canadian J.W.S."

This report is particularly gratifying in view of the fact that more than Canadian interests are bargaining for this market in Ireland.

During this past year farmers in the districts of Rhein Saskatchewan, and Portage La Prairie, Manitoba, were given assistance in the handling of their respective hemp crops. This service was rendered in order to stimulate and encourage the establishment of a cordage industry in the west.

Also, this past year, a specialist was sent from Ottawa to British Columbia to carry on extensive experiments in the growing and handling of flax for fibre purposes. The results showed that British Columbia can produce a quality of fibre that comparates very favourably with the best grades of Irish flax fibre.

Another service which has received favourable commendation is the installation of small demonstration flax mills in certain flax growing districts. These mills are equipped with a flax breaking machine and three or four scutching blades, as the case may be. The government supplies the machinery and the interested parties supply the accommodation and the power to run the machinery.

Hundreds of samples of the best fibre flax seed are mailed free of charge to farmers each year and applications for these samples is made to the fibre division from all parts of Canada.

When these facts have been duly considered one realizes the real value of experimental farms work in fibre crop production in Canada.

All-Electric Kitchen Will Provide 12,000 Meals a Day On New Cunarder

A wonderful all-electric kitchen, which will provide 12,000 meals a day, is being planned by the catering experts of the Cunard Line for the new 73,000-ton liner now being built at Clydebank.

The liner will carry over 3,000 passengers and 500 crew, and for the big task of feeding them 100 highly-paid chefs will be employed in the all-electric kitchen. The kitchen has many novel devices, including machines for keeping the ovens and grills at certain temperatures and instruments which wash thousands of plates and dishes in a few minutes. It will also be possible to cook simple dishes without attention.

The wine experts of the company have evolved new methods to ensure that all wines will be kept in perfect condition even though the liner may be running through heavy weather. Wines are purchased five years before they are used in Atlantic liners, and for years now the wines for the new Cunarder's cellar have been waiting for the maiden voyage. The cellar will be one of the largest and best in the world.

Great progress is being made in the construction of the Cunarder, the castings for the gear wheels and turbines, and the stern bracket, one of the largest ever made, are nearing completion at Darlington and Sheffield. Half the boiler installation is complete, and 1,000 miles of electric cable are ready for installation.

Industrial Moose Jaw

Moose Jaw now has an industrial area of about 50 city blocks, the city council having set aside three subdivisions for the purpose. Prairie Heights, Westmore and Sunnyside. The area lies roughly between the main line of the Canadian Pacific and the Outlook line branch.

The exposure to extreme cold may crumble to dust.

Bonds Of Empire

Earl Jellicoe Refers To Important Part Played By Canada

Great Britain is looking to Canada to provide a lead in strengthening the British Empire, declared Earl Jellicoe, president of the British Empire Service League, addressing an Empire Club luncheon at Toronto. Coupled with this remark was his confident assurance that Britain would surmount present difficulties and emerge successfully from the national crisis.

The Admiral of the Fleet recalled feeling which existed in the Dominion in the '90s that Canada should separate from the Empire and throw in her lot with the United States. The Canada of today was sufficient answer to the fear that such feeling might ever lead to action.

The observation of Empire Day in Canada had developed from that feeling, he said. "It is well that our children should realize the common loyalty which binds the Empire; the tie of blood and the tie of respect and honor which we give to our king."

"Canada has played an immense part in the empire's work; Canada has fought in the common cause, and I have no doubt she would do it again."

We of the Mother Country will look to Canada to give us a lead in the strengthening of the ties of Empire."

How To Keep Milk

Keeping Milk In Proper Condition For Home Use

Four little words tell the whole story about how to keep milk in proper shape for use in the home. These are "Clean, Cool, and Covered." This is one of the fundamental rules of home economics to which the Dairy and Cold Storage Branch calls special attention. For best results milk should be served at the end of the meal, and it should always be sipped slowly. Milk is the ideal food for children of all ages because of its high quality and quantity of protein, its abundance of calcium, its readily assimilable phosphorus content, its iron, and its easily digested fat and sugar.

Radium Not Cure-All

But Has Accomplished Much In Treatment Of Cancer

Cancer control was the greatest problem of health today, and radium had come to the fore as a potent agent. It was not a panacea, for even in skilled hands its results were often disappointing, but, on the whole, the world of medicine could look with satisfaction upon what it had already accomplished. Dr. Joseph Muir, famed New York cancer expert and physical therapist, stated in addressing the convention of the American Academy of Physical Therapy, held at Montreal.

Southern Alberta Wool

Shipments of wool from Southern Alberta to the Canadian Co-Operative Wool Growers' association at Weston, Ont., have broken all records according to a report issued by N. T. Macleod, secretary of the Southern Alberta Sheep Breeders' Association. Deliveries made to date aggregate 1,800,000 pounds, the wool clip being unusually heavy this year.

Wilkins' Trip Important

Only Way Certain Scientific Phenomena Can Be Obtained

Star dust on the bottom of the sea, among other scientific things, has drawn Sir Hubert Wilkins, submarine polar explorer, into great danger, in the opinion of Vilhjalmur Stefansson, who once led Sir Hubert on another polar trip.

Frequently heard from, Sir Hubert is now in the great Arctic ice pack about 350 miles from the north pole. Mr. Stefansson said, "Sir Hubert undoubtedly cannot much longer delay his return from the ice because the summer season virtually is finished."

Mr. Stefansson emphasized the importance of Sir Hubert's trip explaining that in no other way can certain important scientific phenomena be obtained.

"Star dust is probably the most romantic of these phenomena. Scientists hold that dust from outer space is deposited in the polar regions in comparative purity, whereas in other parts of the world it is mixed with terrestrial dust. Obviously any samples that Sir Hubert can obtain from the bottom of the sea will be of use to science."

"Sir Hubert also seeks to weigh the earth from the North which is the shortest radius to the centre of the earth. The earth already has been weighed from the equator, where the radius is longest, and a comparison of the two weights will disclose important phenomena about, among other things, the mineral constitution of the earth."

"By use of the Sonic depth finder, Sir Hubert can make an almost unbroken contour map of the bottom of the Arctic sea. Sir Hubert also can observe water life in the Arctic sea as no other explorer could—by actually being under the surface where the life exists. He also can make important weather observations, investigate water temperatures and other ways all in the innumerable gaps that exist in our Arctic information."

"Probably three years will be needed for the completion of the work of the expedition."

Manitoba Wheat

Test Shows High Protein Content This Year

Dr. F. J. Birchard of the research laboratory of the Canadian Board of Grain Commissioners, in a test made for protein content in the wheat crop of Manitoba, shows that the wheat crop of the province has a maximum of 18.3 per cent, as against a minimum of 14.5 per cent, last year and a minimum of 10.2 per cent, this year as compared with 8.4 per cent, last year. The average being 12.25 per cent against 11.5 per cent, in 1930. The test grains were taken from the same districts as last year.

Time cannot remove kindly acts from a grateful heart.

"The growing habit of buying from within the Empire has attained an impetus in the United Kingdom," states the report of the Empire Marketing Board just published, "which even the world-wide economic depression has been powerless to retard."

The report for 1929-1930 shows that twenty-five new records had been set up, in the year under review, by Empire foodstuffs, as regards volume of imports into the United Kingdom. Apples from Canada and from New Zealand reached record quantities in 1930, as did bananas from the British West Indies, butter and cheese from New Zealand, coffee from British East Africa, currants from Australia, eggs from Australia and South Africa, grapefruit from South Africa and Palestine, lamb from New Zealand, oranges, peaches, plums, sugar and wine from South Africa, pears from four Dominions, and tobacco from India.

A number of other foodstuffs are mentioned which surpassed all previous years, except 1929. These include Australian raisins and sultanas, New Zealand frozen pork, Ceylon tea, Australian sugar, and British marmalade and pineapples.

The people of the United Kingdom are reported to be buying steadily more and more from within the Empire. Many factors have combined to bring about this result. First, more attention is being paid today by Empire producers to the need for grading and orderly marketing. Secondly, distributive traders have shown themselves resolved to further the progress of Empire buying on sound economic lines. Thirdly, the contact between producers overseas and wholesale and retail traders in the United Kingdom is growing closer. Fourthly, consumers in the United Kingdom are becoming more aware of the excellence and wide range of Empire products.

Since the report was issued the imports of Canadian cattle on the hoof, both for further feeding and for slaughter at port have been resumed on a considerable scale and it is possible, if the hog runs this fall justify it, that Canadian bacon imports into Great Britain will increase before the end of 1931.

Grain Grades High

Exceptionally High Quality Of This Year's Crop Is Noted

"Grain which has passed through the inspection department at Winnipeg in the last few days is of exceptionally high quality," it was stated by J. D. Fraser, chief grain inspector at Winnipeg, in a recent address before the officials of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference at Regina. A considerable amount has graded No. 1 hard; a great deal has gone No. 1 Northern, and some has graded No. 2 Northern on account of mixtures of durum and barley."

Ship Horses To Montana

During a recent week sixteen loads of horses, rounded up in the Medicine Hat district, were shipped to the Montana Horse Products Company at Butte. Mr. Chipman, who is buying for the Butte concern, was unable to estimate the coming requirements of his firm from Canadian territory, but the demand may run to 20,000 head.

LONGEST SINGLE SPAN BRIDGE IN THE WORLD

Here's a striking aerial view of the Sydney, Australia, harbour bridge, which has been seven years in construction, at a cost of nearly $40,000,000. As the longest single span bridge in the world, it will carry four lines of vehicular traffic, two electric train tracks and two street car tracks, as well as two foot-bridges for pedestrians only. One million passengers will cross the bridge daily. It is estimated.

LOCAL & GENERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Colin Clough, of Drumheller were visiting relatives here over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kaufman spent Thanksgiving visiting friends in the Maydon district.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. A. Crossman who has been ill for several weeks is now much improved.

Mr. J. A. McElroy is again behind the wheel at the depot after spending a month's vacation touring the province.

Misses Ruby Klinek and Olive Hyde, who are teaching in the Red Deer dist., spent the holiday with their parents here.

Messrs. N. Nowak, B. Meston, E. Pratt, W. R. Hartley and J. Davies were amongst the local visitors to Calgary during the holiday.

The third year classes at the Olds School of Agriculture started the session's work last Tuesday, while the general opening for the two year courses will commence October 27. Applications for registration are now being received and are coming in greater volume than expected.

Complaints are being made of the speeding of trucks along the gravel road west of town. One party states he has seen trucks driving at 10 miles an hour through the residential district and that the lives of children living along the road are being endangered. We are told a complaint has been made to the police and that a check will be made on fast driving.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Marschall visited with the latter's parents at Quinceston over the week-end. Ed states that crops in that district yielded only two bushels to the acre, owing to warm weather and lack of moisture. He also reports that the centre of the Calgary-Macleod highway is being changed in various stretches of the road, which will materially improve that highway, as there will be fewer corners.

Here and There

Can you find any more of the half-cent coins? The Bank of Canada has announced that 600,000 of the smallest on record, half-cent coins, that the output for the full year 1923 will be well over 4,000,000 in value.

Working at the rate of a mile a day and expending a daily average of 100 men, completion of re-surfacing in the Quinceston district from Windhorst to Southa Falls on the Canadian Pacific track was announced recently.

Canadian hens are working much harder than their ancestors of ten years ago. In 1923 statistics show that 629 birds produced an average of 124 eggs apiece. This average rose steadily until in 1920 it was 175 eggs per bird.

New Brunswick moose and deer will make their debut on the talkie screen this Fall while the famous moose calls of New Brunswick guides will be recorded in sound for the edification of millions of patrons in thousands of theatres across the continent.

The site of the first cheese factory in Canada, located in Oxford County, Ontario, will be marked with a cairn as an historic site. There are now more than 2,800 factories in Canada making butter or cheese, and the cheese production exceeds 150,000,000 pounds yearly.

"Generally satisfactory" is the comment on wheat grading in the Prairie Provinces, according to reports coming in from the Agricultural Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Winnipeg. Wheat cutting in the West was actually completed by the middle of September and rather more than half of it was threshed at that time.

Playing spectacular golf, E. G. ## CANADA OFFERS PARADISE TO HUNTERS

With the fall of the leaf and the tang of autumn in the air the hunting rod is laid aside and the Nimrod goes to his rifle and shotgun, as the hunting season is entered in. True to her reputation as one of the world's greatest playgrounds, Canada offers a wide range of sports, game, feathers and horns, to all who care to penetrate its far-flung hinterlands. From coast to coast, all about the vast system of the Canadian Pacific Railway, there are countless established points of entry into the woods and mountains, readily accessible to those in search of game. The shores of countless lakes, rivers, and creeks, abounding with all varieties of duck and goose and are not infrequently the scene of the termination of successful expeditions after moose, elk and deer of all kinds. New Brunswick yields Ontario and Quebec as moose territory, while further west, the towering Rockies offer their tribute of bear, mountain sheep and

Why Not?

The town council should be congratulated upon their intention to change the highway to Hespeler and Boundary Streets. By doing this, two streets will be improved without expense to the town, and two highway turns will be eliminated. It is a businesslike move in the right direction and a real improvement to both highway and town.

We have been informed that a petition against the improvement has been circulated among the residents of Hespeler St. The petition sets forth that the proposed route is through a residential section, and would therefore be both a dust nuisance and dangerous for the children. We expected it. No step forward is ever taken without opposition.

We agree that the highway means danger to the children and from that standpoint should not be brought through the town at all, but, if we are to have it, then the more central the better, for motorists are more careful in the thickly populated sections than on the outskirts. Of course there will be dust, wherever there is much travel, but "the slow" or the traffic, the less dust there will be," which is another argument in favor of Hespeler St., and finally we believe that the route should be through the residential section. It should lead over the best streets that we have, we want our visitors to have a good opinion of us.

The highway should have been removed from Railway St. long ago, the business section should be kept free for parking and shoppers. Through traffic is a constant source of danger and it is a wonder that there has not been more accidents. To lead the tourist travel over the new route would not mean any loss of business, in our opinion. Those who want to stop would not be so to go out of their way, but could follow on over the old route and they would have the added convenience of parking without danger from through-traffic.

We just want to ask why not carry out the project and enjoy the improvements and advantages which it offers?

See Good Hints & Good Buys.

The "Edsbury Pioneer" enters almost 100 per cent. of the homes in this district. Each issue contains a message from merchants to customers. The merchants buy their advertising space in order to put over their wares. Every line in the ad, must justify itself by presenting a bargain that housewives will realize to be a bargain.

That merchants are doing this successfully and are satisfying their customers is shown by their constant use of this advertising medium which carries their message into each home.

If you are buying groceries, fruit, clothing, staple goods, hardware, read the ads. If you have some article you want to buy or sell, use the advertising columns. You will find good hints and good buys, which will make your dollar stretch as elastically as the present times demand.

It's a strange road leads to the House of Dreams. To the House of Dreams-Come-True. Its hills are steep and its valleys deep. And salt with tears the Wayfarers weep. The Wayfarers—I and you. ### CHAPTER I. The Wander-Fever

The great spaces of the hall seemed to slope away into impenetrable gloom; velvet darkness deepening imperceptibly into sable density of panelled wall; huge, smoke-blackened beams, stretching wide arms across the roof, showing only as a dim lattice-work of ebony, fretting the shadowy twilight overhead. At the furthest end of the hall a faint golden eye winked sleepily through the dark, smouldered a fire of logs, and near this, in the luminous circle of its warmth, a man and woman were seated at a table lit by tall wax candles in branched candelsticks. With its twinkling points of light, and the fire's red glow quivering across its shining surface, the table gleamed out like a jewel in a sombre setting—a vivid splash of light in the grey immensity of dusk-enclosed hall. A silence had fallen on the two who had been dining. They had been gay enough together throughout the course of the meal, but now that the servants had brought coffee and withdrawn, it seemed as though the stillness, that queer, ghostly, memory-haunted stillness which lurks in the dim, disused recesses of a place—had crept out from the four corners of the

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS - COME - TRUE

BY MARGARET PEDLER

A THRILLING NEW SERIAL

From the great castle of Beirnefels, the House of Dreams-Come-True, into a world of bitterness and strife and love, went Jean Peterson. Thrilled by a magic day at Montavan, spent with a man of mystery, she was brought face to face with the realization that she loved him—hopelessly.

Tragedy, misery, vengeance dogged at the heels of this beautiful love-child the moment she set foot on the shores of England. Disillusioned, broken-hearted, she returned to her castle of shattered Dreams only in time to see it, too, come tumbling down before her eyes, swept by the ravages of fire. But in its place there rose a greater, a more enduring castle—the castle of love—the House of Dreams-Come-True.

about England, that makes me feel more absolutely English than anything else."

A spark of amusement lit itself in Peterson's eyes.

"How truly feminine!" he commented lightly.

"I'm afraid it's rather illogical of me."

Her father blew a thin stream of smoke into the air.

"Thank God for it!" he replied lightly. "It's the usual contradiction of your sex that makes it so enchanting. If women were logical they would be as obvious and boring as the average man."

He relapsed into a dreaming silence. Jean broke it rather hesitatingly.

"You've never suggested taking me to England before."

His face darkened suddenly. It was an extraordinarily expressive face—expressive as a child's, reflecting every shade of his constant changes of mood.

"There's no sense of adventure about England," he said shortly. "It's a dull corner of the world—bristling with the privileges."

Jean realised how very completely, from his own point of view, he had answered her. Romance, beauty, the sheer delight of utter freedom from the conventions were as the breath of his nostrils to Glyn Peterson.

Born to the purple, as it were, of an old English family, he had studied in the conventional atmosphere of his upbringing. There had been moments of wild rebellion, bitter outburst against the established order of things, but these had been sedulously checked and discouraged by his father, a man of iron will, who took himself and his position intensely seriously.

Ultimately, Glyn had come to accept with more or less philosophy the fact of his heirship to old estates and old traditions with their inevitable responsibilities and claims, and he was just preparing to fulfil his parents' wishes by marrying, suitably and conventionally, when Jacqueline Mavory, the beautiful half-French opera singer, had flashed into his horizon.

In a moment the world was transformed. Artist soul called to artist soul; the romantic vein in the man, so long checked and thwarted, suddenly asserted itself irresistibly, and the very day before that appointed for his wedding, he and Jacqueline ran away together in search of happiness. And they had found it. The "County" had been shocked; Glyn's

Cursed from early childhood with an almost uncontrollable temper, and branded in later life by "The Mark of the Beast," Blaise Tormarin committed a crime for which he seemed destined to pay a life-long penalty of mental anguish. But that magic day at Montavan opened for him a new life—a life through which he fought a losing battle against love.

And losing, he yielded to the love of the beautiful girl from the far-off castle, only to find as the wedding day approached, that tragedy still followed, making it impossible for him to marry. Here "Chance," in the person of revenge, stepped in and the world cleared of misery and darkness; and Blaise and Jean found at last their House of Dreams-Come-True.

father, unbending descendant of the old Scottish Covenanters, his whole creed outraged, had broken under the blow; but the runaway lovers had found what they sought.

At Beirnefels, a beautiful old Schloss on the eastern border of Austria, remote from the crowd and surrounded by forest-clad hills, Glyn Peterson and Jacqueline had lived a romantically happy existence, roaming the world whenever the wander-fever seized them, but always returning to Schloss Beirnefels, where Peterson had contrived a background of almost exotic richness for the adored woman who had flung her career to the winds in order to become his wife.

"Changed into the same image from glory to glory"—2 Corinthians iii. 18.

As one lamp lights another, nor grows less. So nobleness enkindleth nobleness."—James Russell Lowell.

In a very simple and literal way he believed that God was His Father, not in name only, but in very truth. He knew that he, in common with every human being, had it in his power to live as a son or as an alien; and he knew—by that most sure proof, the experience of daily life—that he could only overcome the cravings of selfishness by a constant effort to come into closer union with the life-giving spirit to whom he was truly akin, that so he might not starve, but grow and develop.—Knight-Errant.

Mountain View Notes

The monthly meeting of the W.L. takes place in Community Hall on Thursday at 2 p.m.

The district seems quite deserted, as many of our youths are away on the threshing gangs to the north of us.

Many of the farmers, outside the halled area have received part of the Bennett bonus. What kind of a bonus has the government for the halled-out farming areas?

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus A. Wade and Mrs. Win. Cameron, of Calgary, accompanied by Mrs. R. Spence, paid a surprise visit to Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Atkinson Wednesday last.

The district again received one of those unwelcome duststorms on Friday afternoon last, preceded by a slight shower of rain, insufficient to lay the dust. Many white-painted residences soon received a black appearance on their north side and windows on that side were plastered with dirt which adhered to the raindrops. Ditches on the Community Hall road were well filled with loose halled grain, and some of it was blown down in fields, hayricks overturned, stooks blown against fences and into ditches. Telephone poles had the appearance of the leaning tower of Pisa. On nearing Didsbury, one saw fences clad with loose paper, the town having received somewhat of a clean-up. At the depot, Mr. Pitt was seen leaving for a trip across the Atlantic, some of his Didsbury friends bidding him goodspeed. For a moment one wished we could board the train and go on a similar journey, free from the dust.

Burnside Notes

Mr. Fred Thompson and Alfred were Calgary visitors last week.

Mrs. W. Fulkerth is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. McCulloch.

Mr. D. Jenkins is home from Vulcan where he spent harvest. He reports threshing all done there.

Mrs. G. Metz who was very ill is now much improved. She is visiting with her friend, Mrs. Peterson at Three Hills.

Lone Pine W.L. met at the home of Mrs. Bert Cross Thursday last and spent the afternoon quilting a quilt. It was decided to hold a social evening and whist drive in Lone Pine Hall on Halloween. The next meeting will be at Miss Winnie Spraggs' on November 12th.

Master Bobby Eckel was badly bruised and cut when another horse kicked at and bit his saddle horse several times. He is able to be around again, but will carry a slight limp for some time. Miss Ruth Thoman also met with a horse accident when her saddle horse put its foot into a badger hole, and falling with her, badly bruised her foot.

Miss Marion Leeson, of Calgary spent Thanksgiving at her home here.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bolton on the birth of a son.

Congratulations to Misses Ruth Johnston and Amy Wilson on receiving their K.N. certificates.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clarke spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Hilary of Didsbury.

We are pleased to see that Mr. Charles Youngs is out and around again and feeling much better.

Miss Florence O'Brien, of New Norway motored down and spent the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Youngs.

Mr. Edgar Wiggins, of Camrose and Mr. and Mrs. Vanech, of Olds visited with friends in the district on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Krebs motored out to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lukohaas and spent Thanksgiving with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Pemberton, Morris, also Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ross, of Calgary, spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Youngs.

We saw in the Mountain View Notes that they have had skunks, but we don't think they have them all, for many farmers in this district have received various visits from skunks and also porcupines.
